April 16, 2020 - I am pleased to announce Amanda Cook has joined our team as a Senior Project Advisor. Based out of Acorn's Chicago Headquarters, Amanda Cook will play a key role in expanding our team's legal knowledge. She has experience in complex civil litigation, constitutional issues, appellate matters, and Second Requests. From working, practicing, and managing all stages of the EDRM, Amanda has achieved a holistic understanding of the full eDiscovery process and will be a tremendous asset to our clients. I am impressed with how strongly Amanda's desire for excellent customer service and passion for educating clients about advanced technologies aligns with our values.

Prior to Acorn, Amanda helped develop and expand the eDiscovery department at a law firm. Amanda is a proponent around the Economics of eDiscovery. She knows how to garner buy in from senior staff, educating those with minimal experience to embrace and advocate using eDiscovery technologies. Notably, Amanda was able to cut down a review from 500,000 documents to 30,000, not only providing her client significant cost savings, but also getting the firm to embrace review and automated workflows as a cost saving measure. Amanda is someone who is "behind the curtain", providing creative solutions derived from working in the same environment, and having handled the exact obstacles her clients do.

Amanda formerly practiced as a Litigation Attorney and is licensed in three jurisdictions, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, and the District of Columbia. Additionally, Amanda has achieved certification as a Relativity Certified Administrator and User and is a Certified eDiscovery Specialist.

Upon graduating with a Bachelor of Arts in English from the University of Massachusetts, Amanda received her Juris Doctor from the University of Florida. Amanda joins the team from Strassburger McKenna Gutnick & Gefsky where she was an Associate Attorney. Prior to that, Amanda was an eDiscovery Project Manager at KLDISCOVERY, helping clients develop eDiscovery divisions into profit centers.

When asked what attracted Amanda to Acorn, she cited:

"Acorn excels in their customer focused approach. The team holds themselves to a gold star standard in service to their clients, which is an essential quality for me. They utilize various advanced technologies, to save clients' not only money but time. Acorn is the trifecta of legal, technology and customer orientation. Being able to apply my diverse and expansive background to assist our clients is truly exciting."

I look forward to introducing Amanda to all of our clients, thought partners and industry allies in the coming months.

Sincerely,

Lia Majid
